The diagram is a genealogical chart template. It features a central vertical line that branches out to the left and right. On the left side, there are two horizontal lines representing parents. On the right side, there are two horizontal lines representing offspring. Each of these horizontal lines is connected to a vertical line, which then branches out to two more horizontal lines, representing a second generation of offspring. This structure allows for the recording of a pedigree across two generations. The lines are red, and there are input fields (rectangles) at the end of each line for recording names and registration numbers.
